

Complaints Policy & Procedure

Definition

Complete Skills Solutions (CSS) defines a concern or a complaint as a formal expression of dissatisfaction that requires a formal response.

Purpose

The purpose of a formal concerns policy is to ensure that all concerns or complaints are reviewed thoroughly, fairly, and wherever possible resolved to the highest satisfaction

General Customer Feedback Process

CSS is committed to providing high-quality training and assessment for its customers and continuously seeks opportunities to improve its services. Constructive comments on where we can improve our services are welcomed.

Customers are asked at the start and at the end of a training course for feedback, and we welcome ad-hoc feedback via email and telephone.

Feedback provides valuable information that is used to introduce improvements to all our training products and services. CSS encourages its customers to provide honest feedback to enable the improvement processes to take place effectively.

Complaints Process

Occasions may arise where a customer feels it is necessary to make a formal complaint about the training services provided.

A formal complaint needs to be submitted separately from the general feedback process and not through the feedback form.

Customers wishing to submit a formal complaint should do so in writing an email or letter. Formal complaints should be in writing to ensure that all the relevant information is captured and so that the issue can be investigated properly.

CSS will treat formal written complaints as a clear expression of dissatisfaction with its service, which calls for a prompt and courteous response.
